

GALLERY 110 NORTH

The nature of most non-profit art galleries is that they tend to operate on a very limited budget and are dependent on sponsorships and donations to exist. The Plymouth Arts Center/Gallery 110 North belongs to its members and the communities it serves, there is no single owner. It is also true that the PAC's success depends on the dedication of a cadre of volunteers who work behind the scenes. Without the support of volunteers, we would not be able to present our events in the professional and friendly manner for which we are well-known. We strive to offer volunteers a satisfying, fun, and rewarding experience. As a gallery volunteer you are offering a vital service to the arts in our greater community, we are proud of what you do, and we truly appreciate your generous donation of time and talent.

The public doesn't always see the amount of work the volunteers do or the number of people necessary to keep our Gallery running smoothly. Volunteers and donors are our life-blood. You don't have to be an artist to join our team. Many of our volunteers are folks with a passion for the arts. They work behind the scenes throughout the exhibit season to make the exhibits appear effortless and to offer a welcoming venue for the public and all art lovers. Many like being involved in the local art community and giving something back. Giving back provides you an opportunity to grow, and you'll be connected with fellow art lovers, meet interesting artists, and hopefully make a few new friends.

Once a person sees the amount of effort involved in keeping all aspects of our gallery going, they are very passionate about sustaining it, making sure it remains vital for future generations. The only way to do so effectively is to recruit other volunteers, and there are always plenty of jobs to fill.

VISUAL ARTS TEAM & ART TECH TEAM

The Visual Arts Team is the core group of individuals processing ideas to further enhance the gallery's events and to bring to the table ideas for growth. This exciting committee works year round and holds quarterly social meetings. Some of the duties involved include: planning five gallery shows per year; reviewing artwork; contacting artists; working with judges; work with artists supplying work regarding logistics and paperwork; conduct intake and outtake for exhibits, and more. The Tech crew helps with intake and outtake, prepares walls, hangs artwork and wall tags, packs & unpacks art, and so much more. All rewarding and educational, plus you will be involved in the local art community and meet interesting people, many whom are artists and volunteers themselves. Once involved, it is hard not to become passionate about all the PAC offers our patrons, admirers, and guests, and the many ways we enhance community life in western Sheboygan County. There is constant activity at the Plymouth Arts Center and a job for everyone. YOU get to be a part of the local arts community!

DOCENTS

Learn more about art and the specific exhibitions, and then share that knowledge with gallery visitors. It is the docent who provides the personal touch and attention to what can be a person's first experience in a gallery. As a docent, one has the potential to initiate lifelong interest and appreciation for the arts by providing engaging anecdotes to our gallery visitors. Docents volunteer at their leisure in Gallery 110 North. They will be seated at a beautiful wooden desk, an original art piece, created especially for them by artist Richard Bronk.

The Plymouth Arts Center is recognized as a significant anchor business in downtown Plymouth. As a full service Arts Center and community gathering place, the PAC contributes to Tourism with its many exhibitions, educational programs, and special events. The PAC also contributed to the revitalization of the downtown area through its own major expansion and renovation in 2011-2012.
