DESCRIPTION: In this 3-part workshop series, you will learn how to create an interactive, handmade journal that becomes a two-dimensional adventure as you flip each page, exploring all of the treasures that you've tucked inside.

WORKSHOP #1

In workshop #1 we will create two journals from scratch, using both sewing and no-sewing methods. You will learn several adaptations to begin making a versatile variety of handmade journals. Date: June 20

WORKSHOP #2

In workshop #2 you'll return with your handmade journals. We will explore mixed-media methods so that you can learn how to design your own pages using simple supplies to decorate your journals. These mixed-media methods work well in many other art forms, including card-making and scrapbooking. Date: July 18

(Note: You can register for this workshop without attending the first one.)

WORKSHOP #3 AND FINAL: In workshop #3 you will fill your designed pages with your own treasures. You will learn how simple cuts, folds, and other techniques can turn your pages into interactive, two-dimensional adventures that store your notes, mementos, photos, recipe cards, and more!

Date: August 1 (Previous workshop required)

Morgann Mourer developed a love for discarded books and old papers through her work as a former librarian. Using simple and recycled supplies, she's inspired by turning one's trash into her own unique treasures. Her handmade journals are places to tell and capture stories, and she views each finished journal as a two-dimensional adventure. Morgann wants everyone to easily connect with their own inner creative self and experience the joy and peace that comes from creatively expressing oneself freely. She is passionate about helping others find their one-of-a-kind creative spark and cultivating a simple, regular art practice for overall well-being.
